SEMI-WEEKLY, 4 PAGES.

LOCAL.

TRAIN left Calgary about 8 a. m. ONTARIO'S ball to-morrow night. JAS. A. PETRIE left for Vancouver on Tuesday's train.

F. DE JOURNAL left on a visit to Red Deer on Tuesday's train. JOHN CAMERON is shipping a car of barley to Calgary on to-morrow's train.

JAS. WALSH purchased a $173 lot of fur from Wright and McCallum on Monday last.

The Archbishop of St. Boniface will be consecrated in St. Boniface on Tuesday March 19th.

M. McKENZIE of Haultain & McKenzie, of Macleod, arrived on Monday's train on a business trip.

FINLAY M. YOUNG is speaker of the Manitoba legislature in the place of S. J. Jackson resigned.

W. J. G. DICKSON will ship a car of barley to the Northwest trading company, Calgary, on Friday's train.

JUDGE SCOTT came to Red Deer on last train, to hold court there. He will arrive at Edmonton on Monday's train.

The Calgary Herald devotes a column to telling the waiting world that J. J. McHugh struck ex-mayor Lucas in the eye.

JOHN FRASER has a gang of men taking out saw logs for D. R. Fraser on a limit near Harry's mine above the White Mud.

R. SPOON purchased a $160 lot of fur from Ross & Morel of Fort Saskatchewan and small lots amounting to $90 last week.

A CONCERT is in course of preparation in aid of the organ fund of the Presbyterian church. The date of the concert has been fixed for 29th of March next.

The Rev. Father Leduc begs to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of $4.68 from the Edmonton fire brigade as a donation to the funds of St. Joachim church.

C. A. MAGNATH, M.L.A. for Lethbridge, has retired from the firm of Magrath & Young, proprietors of the Calgary Herald. J. J. Young is now sole proprietor.

JAS. WALSH purchased a $120 lot of fur from H. W. McKenney of St. Albert; $158 from a trader and $87 in small lots. He ships $365 worth by express to-morrow.

The report that Baldwin & Egge had sold out their coal mine is incorrect. They have contracted for the taking out of coal at so much a ton, but control the mine and its output.

The price of tickets to the banquet to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor has been fixed at $2.50. The tickets are for sale by all members of the committee of management.

CHARLES GILLIES, a driver on the Alberta Railway, was found dead in the kitchen of his house on Feb. 15th, with his skull blown to pieces. There was a Winchester rifle lying near the body.

The Montreal Gazette voices a proposition to establish a health resort for consumptives at Calgary. The BULLETIN is unable to speak for Calgary, but at Edmonton consumption is absolutely unknown amongst the white people.

The Prince Albert Advocate mentions a sound like thunder which was heard in Assinaka, Carrot river, Birch hills, Colleton, Island lake, and St. Catharines settlements as well as in Prince Albert on Sunday, Feb. 10th. It concludes that the sound was caused by the fall of a meteor near Brancepeth in the Birch hills.

MRS. JAS. LAUDER received by last mail from a relative in Scotland, a document dated July 22nd, 1786, signed by Robert Burns, of Mossgiel. It is a deed of transfer of certain property to Gilbert Burns, brother of Robert, on the occasion of the latter's proposed leaving for America. The paper is old but the hand writing is clear and good. It is valued very highly by the present owner, and is an object of interest to all admirers of the poet.

THE plans of the Territorial exhibition buildings are on view in the town clerk's office. They comprise a building for dairy products 40x32; for poultry and grain 45x28, with wing 20x43; ticket office 21x22 and quarters for officials 21x22; main building 128x42, 2 stories high. No doubt the buildings are well suited for the purposes for which they are intended, but in architectural design they follow the style of the Edmonton land office. The main building has a close resemblance to the Athabasca warehouse in the H. B. fort at Edmonton.

D. R. FRASER has acquired the sole interest in the saw and grist mill business of Fraser & Co. These mills were established in 1879 by Messrs. McLeod, Norris and Belcher. (D. McLeod of Edmonton, deceased; John Norris of Edmonton, and Inspector Belcher of Regina), and include a saw mill with a capacity of 18 to 20 thousand feet per day; a grist mill with two run of stones and a complete set of wood working machinery. The present proprietor has been managing partner of the business since 1880 and now that he has secured full control will be able to carry out his own ideas in the way of improving and extending it.

THE first number of the weekly edition of the Alberta Tribune under the proprietorship of the new firm of J. Creagh & Co. is to hand. The Alberta Tribune is the new name of the late Calgary Tribune and judging from the first number appears to be, if anything, an improvement on its excellent predecessor. Mr. Creagh, of the new management, is well known throughout Alberta and also knows it well from Edmonton to the boundary line. Any person who knows Mr. Creagh will have every confidence that he will conduct a paper that will be lively enough to be interesting. Whether he will realize his ambition as expressed in his editorial salutation, namely to make the Alberta Tribune "a journal which will bear the same relation to the westerly portion of the Canadian Prairie land that the Manitoba Free Press, in its palmy days under the editorship of Mr. Luxton, bore to the easterly portion," will as he himself remarks, remain to be seen. But he could not have taken a better example of what a newspaper should be. The policy announced is one of vigorous independence, a policy which Mr. Creagh is eminently fitted to carry out.

THE special services in the Methodist church will be continued next week.

TO-MORROW night the officers and soldiers of the Salvation army will join with their Methodist friends in a union service at the church.

C. GALLAGHER will ship 9,000 pounds of dressed beef and the balance of a car of oats to the coast on Tuesday's train. This is the first shipment of beef this season.

SOUTH EDMONTON Council Royal Templars of Temperance give an entertainment in Parrish's hall, South Edmonton, on Monday evening next. They will be assisted by Edmonton council.

R. RECORD returned on Monday from a trip to Wetaskiwin and Battle river. He purchased the following lots of fur: F. Adam $225, Macdonald & Ramsay $300, John West $45, small lots $50.

W. B. STENNETT reports $80 worth of fur purchased in small lots since last issue. He has also purchased a very fine specimen of the timber wolf of this country. The skin is now on exhibition at Mr. Stennett's office.

W. J. WRIGHT who recently returned from a trading trip to Lac la Biche, brought with him a violin purchased there which is dated 1713, made at Cerebona, Italy by Antonius Stadivarius. It was no doubt brought to the country by some old Hudson's Bay man and is still in good working order.

HIS Honor Lieut-Gov. Mackintosh will arrive on next Monday's train. There will be a public reception at nine o'clock in Robertson's hall when addresses will be read. On Tuesday His Honor will visit the schools and on Tuesday night will be entertained at a banquet in Robertson hall. He will visit Fort Saskatchewan on Wednesday and St. Albert on Thursday.

PEOPLE passing by A. H. Martin's taxidermist establishment this morning were astonished to see a large horned owl sitting on the snow outside the door as if waiting to be taken in and treated as Mr. Martin does his specimens. On being approached he did not fly away but ruffled his feathers and showed fight. The secret was that he had been hobbled by Mr. Martin in order to keep him in his yard, but he had managed to fly over the fence, and was unable to make further progress to liberty.

FIRE BRIGADE.

A meeting for the purpose of re-organizing the fire brigade was held in the fire hall on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 14th, J. H. Picard, chairman of the fire, water and light committee in the chair and W. H. Clark secretary, by-laws of the brigade were read to the meeting and approved by show of hands. On motion 30 of those present expressed their willingness to join the brigade (subject to certain proposed amendments to the fire by-laws being ratified by the council) by singing the roll. When those who had not signed the roll had retired, the following officers were elected: K. A. McLeod, chief; Geo. P. Sanderson, assistant chief; W. H. Clark, secretary; R. Hockley, treasurer. A committee consisting of the chief, assistant chief, T. Carney, P. Carpenter and the secretary was appointed to draft amendments to the by-laws, to be submitted to a meeting of the fire brigade before submitting the same to the town council for approval. The next meeting will take place on Saturday the 23rd inst.

HOCKEY CLUB BALL.

One of the most interesting social events of the season took place in Robertson hall on Tuesday the 19th. The Hockey Club deserves great credit for the way the affair was managed. Everyone was well pleased with the dance. The hall was very tastefully decorated with flags, hockey sticks and trophies. The floor and music were perfection. The supper was good, supplied by Mr. Marriaggi. The costumes would compare favorably with any of the masquerade balls of the east. The following are a few of the most striking costumes worn:

Mrs. Dr. Wilson—Kate Darling.
Mrs. W. S. Edmiston—Gipsy Queen.
Mrs. C. F. Strang—Spanish Lady.
Miss Adamson—Dowager Duchess.
Mrs. R. Hardisty—Kate Greenaway.

DOMINION ELECTIONS.

Although no definite news of the date of the Dominion elections has yet been received all the indications are that they will occur before the close of winter or early in the spring. The date which was rumored some weeks ago, namely April 19th, has not been confirmed, and indeed was no doubt incorrect; still there is every reason to believe that it is not far wide of the mark. Parliament is prorogued until March 25th. If it was intended that it should meet then, necessary preparations for the session would no doubt now be in progress, and the ministers would be in Ottawa for that purpose. On the other hand if an election is first in prospect the ministers would naturally be placing the best side of their policy before the electors, by stumping the country, which is exactly what they are doing. The new voters' lists are being prepared with a rush and will be ready in April, and as it is evidently intended to hold the elections on the new lists it may be depended that they will be held as soon after the lists are completed as possible. It is not likely that they will be sprung on before the lists are completed because in getting new names on the lists the party in power has a great advantage, being an organized body in active service,—or in other words drawing pay,—while the opposition by reason of not having the bond of office to hold them together cannot by any manner of means be as well organized and therefore cannot look so closely to the matter of getting the names of their friends on the new voters' lists. The meeting of parliament cannot be delayed much longer than the time necessary for the preparation of the lists and it is certainly not the intention of the government to meet the present parliament on the eve of dissolution with the Manitoba school question imperatively claiming attention. It has been suggested that there will be a short session of parliament. If parliament in session could be confined to any certain business it might be called with the hope of holding a short session. But parliament cannot be controlled in the business which it shall take up once it meets, and with this vexed question in hand and the election in immediate prospect, there would be very little chance of anything but a long and stormy session which could not fail to wreck a large number of the present members when they next meet their constituents. It is to the interest of every man in parliament, and particularly every member of the government, that the elections should occur before this question has to be definitely faced. Once the elections are over, and with a possible five years term in view, there are opportunities for compromise, etc., that do not exist with a general election pending. To bring the elections on now the issues may be clouded so that the electorate may possibly be made to believe something in one locality and something else in another, which could not be done after the question had been discussed and voted upon in parliament.

The elections now in prospect will be conducted on very different lines from any that have occurred in Canada since confederation. Hitherto we have had two well defined parties, and only two, fighting on well defined questions raised by one side or the other. During the coming election we have the two old parties facing each other on no very well defined issue. While the conservatives are declaring loudly their adherence to protection they have made considerable free trade concessions and therefore may make more; and the liberals while declaring for free trade concede the necessity of a tariff for revenue and thereby acknowledge at least incidental protection. There is a difference in the two policies but it can easily be seen that in giving effect to one or the other practically the same result might be arrived at, and therefore there is not that direct opposition of interests that has been the case in former contests. But besides the old parties there are three others in the field, the patrons, the McCarthyites and the P.P.A., and it is also a fact that there is a greater tendency to independent thought amongst electors of all political faiths than ever before prevailed in Canada. While this condition of affairs is not encouraging from a party point of view it is a good thing for the country at large. The iron rule of party as it existed in Canada may have been a necessary evil at one time, but it was not less an evil, and the days when it was necessary are long gone by. All public matters were considered from a party rather than a patriotic stand point, and in many cases the country suffered damage for the sake of the party. In no part of the country has this been more glaringly the case than in the Northwest. At a time when the first requirement of the Territories was that its interests should be considered by parliament on their merits and according to the facts we have been represented by men who, however deserving personally or desirable as members of a party, have been muzzled by their party allegiance from speaking out in behalf of their constituencies. Parliament must look to the elected representative of any constituency for the views and measure of influence of that constituency. A party man represents a constituency which by electing him has set the interests of the party above their own interests, and cannot complain if they are dealt with accordingly. In the eastern provinces this might be perfectly right where constituencies are only a few miles in area, their interests are identical with those of their neighbors, their resources developed and their population up to the limit. In that case the individual interest is identical with the general interest and everybody is necessarily acquainted with what pertains to the general interest. In the Northwest it is different. The interest of the country at large is at stake in the welfare and progress of the Northwest. And how is that welfare to be provided for and that progress attained if those who represent the Northwest in parliament are not allowed and commissioned to inform that body as to the needs of the Northwest and of each section of it; if they are only allowed to speak as the interests of the party to which they belong may dictate, or if they are not permitted to back up their opinions with their votes?

SOME time ago the BULLETIN questioned the accuracy of the Vancouver quotations for grain appearing in the Winnipeg Commercial. The Commercial's correspondent replied that the letters I o.b. appearing after his quotation explained what the BULLETIN wanted to know. But they didn't and had not the most distant connection with the subject. The BULLETIN wanted to know: 1st, Why Manitoba oats were quoted at a higher price than Edmonton oats, and 2nd, Why Edmonton oats were quoted at the same figure week after week although a rise of $2 a ton had taken place in the price paid at Edmonton for Vancouver delivery. It now wants to know how it is that Edmonton oats were quoted during December and January at $24 a ton when the highest price received by W. J. G. Dickson of South Edmonton for the six cars of milling oats which he shipped to New Westminster during those months was $23.50 per ton, which oats were undoubtedly sold at the highest price received for Edmonton oats during that period. Until these questions are satisfactorily answered, and in view of the facts, the Commercial's Vancouver quotations must be considered misleading to producers and exporters. At the present time the Commercial quotes Manitoba oats at $26 per ton, Washington oats at $25, Edmonton oats at $24 and local oats at $23. The Edmonton district claims to raise the best oats on the continent and the people here find it hard to understand why their oats are not worth as much as

Washington state or Manitoba oats. Do the dealers of Vancouver actually pay $2.00 per ton more for Manitoba oats than for Edmonton oats, or is the quotation only a fake?

SUPREME COURT JUDGMENT.
James H. Wilkie et al. and Scottish Ontario Land Co., and Jacob Ernst and others vs. St. George Jellett.
This was a consolidated action of four suits and the facts were, that the defendant had obtained a judgment for $1,100 against the Edmonton and Saskatchewan Land and Colonization Co. and had secured a registered execution against lands for which they had the certificate of ownership under the Territories Real Property Act. The plaintiffs had received transfers for these lands from the Edmonton and Saskatchewan Land and Colonization Co., long prior to the defendant's execution being registered, but they did not register such transfers until after defendant had registered his execution. Plaintiffs contended that defendant could not seize such lands because the unregistered transfer was sufficient to vest the equitable title at least in the plaintiffs and that Jellett could only seize the Edmonton and Saskatchewan Land Co.'s title as it actually stood in equity. The plaintiffs also contended that the Territories property act recognized such equities, and that under it Jellett had nothing to seize in such lands as belonging to the Edmonton and Saskatchewan Land and Colonization Co., and they claimed an injunction against sale by execution and an order to have the execution removed. The defendant Jellett admitted that before the Act the plaintiff's position was unassailable but under the Torrens system established by the Act a certificate of ownership is conclusive title in law and equity and that transfers are of no force or validity to pass title until registered; and that consequently as plaintiffs had not registered their transfer prior to execution they must fail. His Lordship Mr. Justice Rouleau sustained this position of the defendant, and dismissed the actions of the plaintiffs giving judgment for the defendant with costs, which means that the lands will now be sold under the execution of the defendant. This point has been one of very great importance to the bar for a long time and the decision has been looked for with great interest. N. D. Beck, for the plaintiff S. S. Taylor the defendant.

CALGARY FREIGHT RATES.
The Calgary board of trade presented a strong case to the freight rates commission. The following is an extract:
Compare the rate from Calgary to Palliser, 77 cents, and from Southampton to Hamilton, 38 cents (a difference of 109 per cent.). Yet the Alberta farmer who ships his butter to Palliser has to pay more for his cream, his salt, his tea, his sugar, and everything that goes into the manufacture of butter and the making of his house and family comfortable than his brother farmer in Ontario.
Again, compare Calgary to Donald, 85 cents, and Ottumville to Minneapolis, 47 cents; or Calgary to Revelstoke, $1.13, and Wapeton to Minneapolis, 61 cents; or the more favored Forest to Belleville, Ont., 49 cents. Here we have differences ranging from 85 per cent. in Minnesota, to 182 per cent. in Ontario, or almost three times as much for a like service in Alberta to this in Ontario.
It may be said that the road west of us is expensive to work, but it should be as hard to move 100 pounds starting from Montreal as 100 pounds from Calgary. But compare the rates and notice the results.
From Montreal to Calgary per 100 lbs. $ 3 21;
From Montreal to Vancouver per 100 lbs. 2 89;
Or 31 cents per 100 lbs. less to Vancouver than to Calgary. The whole of the mountain haul done for 31 cents, less than nothing.
Take Nelson another favored B. C. spot. From Montreal to Calgary $ 3 21;
From Montreal to Nelson 2 95;
Or 25 cents per 100 lbs. less to Nelson than Calgary. When you take into consideration that the C. P. R. have to pay the land loads and railroads that take their goods from Revelstoke to Nelson 76 cents per 100 lbs. you will see that they carry goods from Montreal to Revelstoke destined for Nelson a distance of 2,236 miles for $2.19, while they charge us $1.13 to Revelstoke on the goods shipped to the same place for the Calgary to Revelstoke haul a distance of 293 miles; ten times the distance for less than double price. The Montreal shipper has the further advantage of shipping our lots to such places as Vancouver when the rate is reduced to $2.57 per 100 pounds.

LACOMBE LINKS.
Mrs. McLennan left last week for her home in Moose Jaw.
Word has been received from our old friend Mr. Wm. Burris, who went east the first of the year, that he has sold his farm there, and is expected to return soon, accompanied by his family.
There was a union meeting held in the Methodist church on Sabbath evening, Feb. 17th at which both Rev. Mr. Fernie and Rev. Mr. Chingwin gave interesting addresses on Sabbath observance. It was a pleasant night and the church was filled. Printed copies of the law on this point were offered to anyone desirous of making themselves acquainted with the same, and a meeting was announced for Tuesday evening, Feb. 20th, for the purpose of forming a society to see that the Sabbath is observed, or the law enforced.
The open meeting of Lacombe council No. 20 R. T. of T. held on Friday evening, Feb. 15th, was a grand success, the school house was crowded, many not being able to get seats. The program was a good one, consisting of music by the Lacombe band (which includes two violins, a banjo, piccolo and organ), addresses by local ministers and tough and exhortations by the members. At intermission the audience was canvassed for new members and some ten or fifteen names were given as desirous of joining at next meeting or in the near future. It is pleasing to note the large attendance at both this and the band of hope entertainment, showing the deep interest the people of this community are taking in temperance work.
A meeting of the Presbyterian congregation will be held in the school house on Monday evening, Feb. 25th, at which estimates for a church building will be submitted and other business in connection with it.
Messrs. C. Dolmage and Wm. Schmuck have leased the livery barn from Mr. Kollerman. Mr. Armstrong who has had it for some months past, having gone into the ranching business.

ANNUAL CHURCH MEETING.

Tuesday, the 19th inst. was the anniversary of the Edmonton Baptist church, when a very respectable attendance was present at the several meetings of the day. At 3 p. m. a devotional meeting was held, followed by a business meeting, which lasted some hours, when reports were received from the various societies and enterprises connected with the church. Also officers were elected for the ensuing year. Tea was served in the church vestry, after the business meeting, when a large number of members and their friends of both town and from the country partook of the toothsome repast provided by the ladies of the church and congregation. After tea a very interesting programme, consisting of addresses, readings, recitations and music, was enjoyed by a very fair audience of young and old, from country and town. Not a few of the membership from the country took advantage of the fine weather to be present on the occasion, some having travelled over 50 miles to enjoy the gathering. The church organized two years ago, with a membership of 19, and now it numbers 74, although several have been during that time dismissed in one way and another from the fellowship. Pastor McDonald in his report of the state of the field expressed much satisfaction at the favor with which the word was received in the various parts of his wide field also at the harmony and co-operation of the membership generally, and from the young people especially; and on entering on the third year of church work all feel like thinking God and being of good courage.

ROMAN CATHOLIC HOSPITAL.

The plans for the new Roman Catholic hospital to be erected on the block lying between Tenth and Eleventh streets and Jasper and Victoria avenues on the E. R. reserve, have arrived, and the stone and brick required have been contracted for and work will be pushed early in the spring. The building will be three stories high, besides basement and attic, in which latter is room for another story. The basement will be the full size of the building with stone walls, to about two feet above the ground. The walls above the basement will be 26 feet in height. The furnace will be situated in the basement. The main building is 60x45 clear of projections with kitchen and wash room one story high 20x14. The main entrance is in the centre of the front, where a slight projection forms the base of the tower which rises to a height of 75 feet above the ground. At the centre of each end of the building is a projection 16x6 feet, with galleries at each of the three stories which extend from the central projections to the corners of the building. The ground floor is divided by a main hall running across the building from the main entrance to the kitchen entrance in the rear. In the back part of this hall is the staircase to the story above. Half way to the rear another hall branches to the right and at the end of this hall is the side entrance. Opening from the hall to the side entrance are, towards the front, the reception parlor, pharmacy and doctor's room, and on the opposite side the luncheon room and private parlor of the sisters in charge of the establishment. Occupying the centre of the building to the left of the hall is a sitting room 28x12 for private patients, and opening from it to the front three private wards and to the rear two private wards. A pantry occupies the space next the hall to which it opens. The plan of the second story is somewhat similar, but the main hall only extends half way across the building from the rear and is chiefly occupied by the stairway. To the right of the landing a parlor for patients, 28x11, extends to the end of the building. From it towards the front open three wards, and a pantry. To the left of the landing a hall five feet wide extends to the end of the building and from it towards the front opens the chapel, and a hall for men, and towards the rear the operating room and a dining room for men. The third story is also similar in design, and the rooms are: parlor 28x15, dormitory for the sisters, infirmary for the sisters, hall for female patients, dining room for female patients, servants' bed room, linen closet, cupboard and two private rooms. The walls of the building will be of solid brick.

An Ottawa dispatch of Feb. 15th, says: There is an increased activity in political circles. The cabinet ministers are preparing for another stamping tour, and apparently there is no preparation for the session.

Medicine Hat News: A notice has been posted up by the A. R. & C. Co. at Lethbridge to the effect that after the 15th inst., No. 3 shaft would be closed down and passes to Great Falls would be issued up to the end of the month to all miners and their families wishing to leave town. This will throw quite a number of men out of employment. The slow sale of coal is the cause of the action.

Calgary Herald on reduction of the police force: Under the present system a man is dismissed for an offence that a few months ago would have met with nothing worse than a severe reproof. No notice is given; he has to get, with perhaps only a few dollars which the charity of his comrades has urged them to collect for him, and without a character—so far as the police force is concerned. The policeman who has a clear default sheet and who wants his discharge is little better off. It is true he will get a good (police) character, if that is anything, and he will be graciously permitted to take his discharge on payment of $50 or more, strictly in advance. Can anything be more contemptible?
